

University Assistants (prae docs) | PhD in Practice Program 2024

Deadline for Applications | 29 February 2024

The Academy of Fine Arts Vienna announces three employment positions for doctoral candidates within its doctoral program for research in artistic practice.

University Assistants (prae docs) | PhD in Practice Program 2024

Starting 1 October 2024, 4-years-contract at 75% employment level (30 hours per week)

The “PhD-in-Practice” program provides participants with the opportunity to pursue their individual arts-based research projects in a collective learning environment with a decidedly transdisciplinary and international bent.

Further details about the PhD-in-Practice Program and the current call are available here.

Job Description:

- Job holders pursue their individual arts-based research projects in a collective learning environment with a decidedly transdisciplinary and international bent and are writing a dissertation.
- The position requires residency in Vienna and contributions to the administration, teaching and self-organisation of the PhD-in-Practice program
- Employment is bound to a continued enrollment in the PhD-in-Practice-program and appropriate study progress (according to the PhD-in-Practice curriculum).

Profile and Application Requirements:

- A degree (Magister, Master or Diploma Studies) from a recognized Austrian or international institution of post-secondary education.
- Presentation of arts-based research project.
- English language skills as required for a successful continuation of studies (to be tested in the course of the admission process to the PhD-in-Practice program)
- gender and anti-discrimination competence
- Applicants with an ongoing artistic career are encouraged to apply.
- High level of motivation
- Submission of complete application, see <https://calls.akbild.ac.at/calls/PhD24/>

The gross monthly salary for university assistants with 30 hours of employment per week is € 2.684,10 (payment according to job grading B1, § 49 Abs 3 of the Collective Bargaining Agreement for University Employees).

The PhD in Practice Program especially encourages Black, Indigenous, and People of Color (BIPOC), people who identify themselves as trans, gender diverse and/or LGBTQIA*, and/or individuals of other underrepresented groups to apply.

If you are interested in the position, please apply here.

The Academy of Fine Arts Vienna strives to increase the proportion of women and strongly encourages applications from qualified women. Likewise, the Academy strives to create application and working conditions that are as barrier-free as possible. Within this framework, the Academy actively supports the application of people with disabilities. Applicants are not entitled to compensation for travel and accommodation expenses incurred in the admission process.